

The Swedish Tax Authority

Teletech supplied with laptops for education

When Skatteverket (the Swedish Tax Authority) held their two-day intern training seminar in Malmö, Teletech delivered 37 laptops and printer connected in network.

We supplied headphones for each PC so the user was shielded from the other users. The instructors were equipped with wireless headset microphone connected to the meeting room's PA systems.

In the same time a technician from Teletech was present to ensure everything was working flawlessly.
